

Dr. Pauline E. Wallner, D.M., MBA, AMA-CPM, BSc. Finance

Dr. Pauline E. Wallner works as a strategic performance management consultant with action learning, project management, facilitating, motivational speaking, and training experience. She has worked with multinational organizations, groups, and teams from and on several continents. Clients and students often describe her as culturally adept, agile, flexible, adaptable, and resilient. These traits have had profound impacts on intra-group and inter-group relationships.

She started a consulting practice in 1999, working with commercial, government, and non-profit organizations in the United States, UK, EU, Canada, and the Caribbean. Since 2005, she has visited Asian countries more than thirty times, working with medium and large organizations in China, South Korea, Japan, Thailand, Indonesia, and Singapore. She designed, developed, enhanced, and facilitated executive leadership development programs with participants from several domain expertise and industries.

Dr. Wallner expanded her knowledge in global markets, collaborating with senior human resource officers, sales executives, project managers, engineers, information technology, senior executives, and decision-makers.

Dr. Wallner is the author of the Rising Stronger Series™.

Global Action Learning Coaching

We help real people to solve real problems and in the final analyses, execution excellence is key. Projects can last one week or twelve months based on needs assessment, global business structure, industry, program design, and business model. As part of our talent development services, we provide assessments, coaching, training, and mentoring services either at our corporate office location, telephone, virtual space, or at a location of your choice. Some projects require extensive travel and we will be available to do so as soon as it is deemed safe by each respective country.
